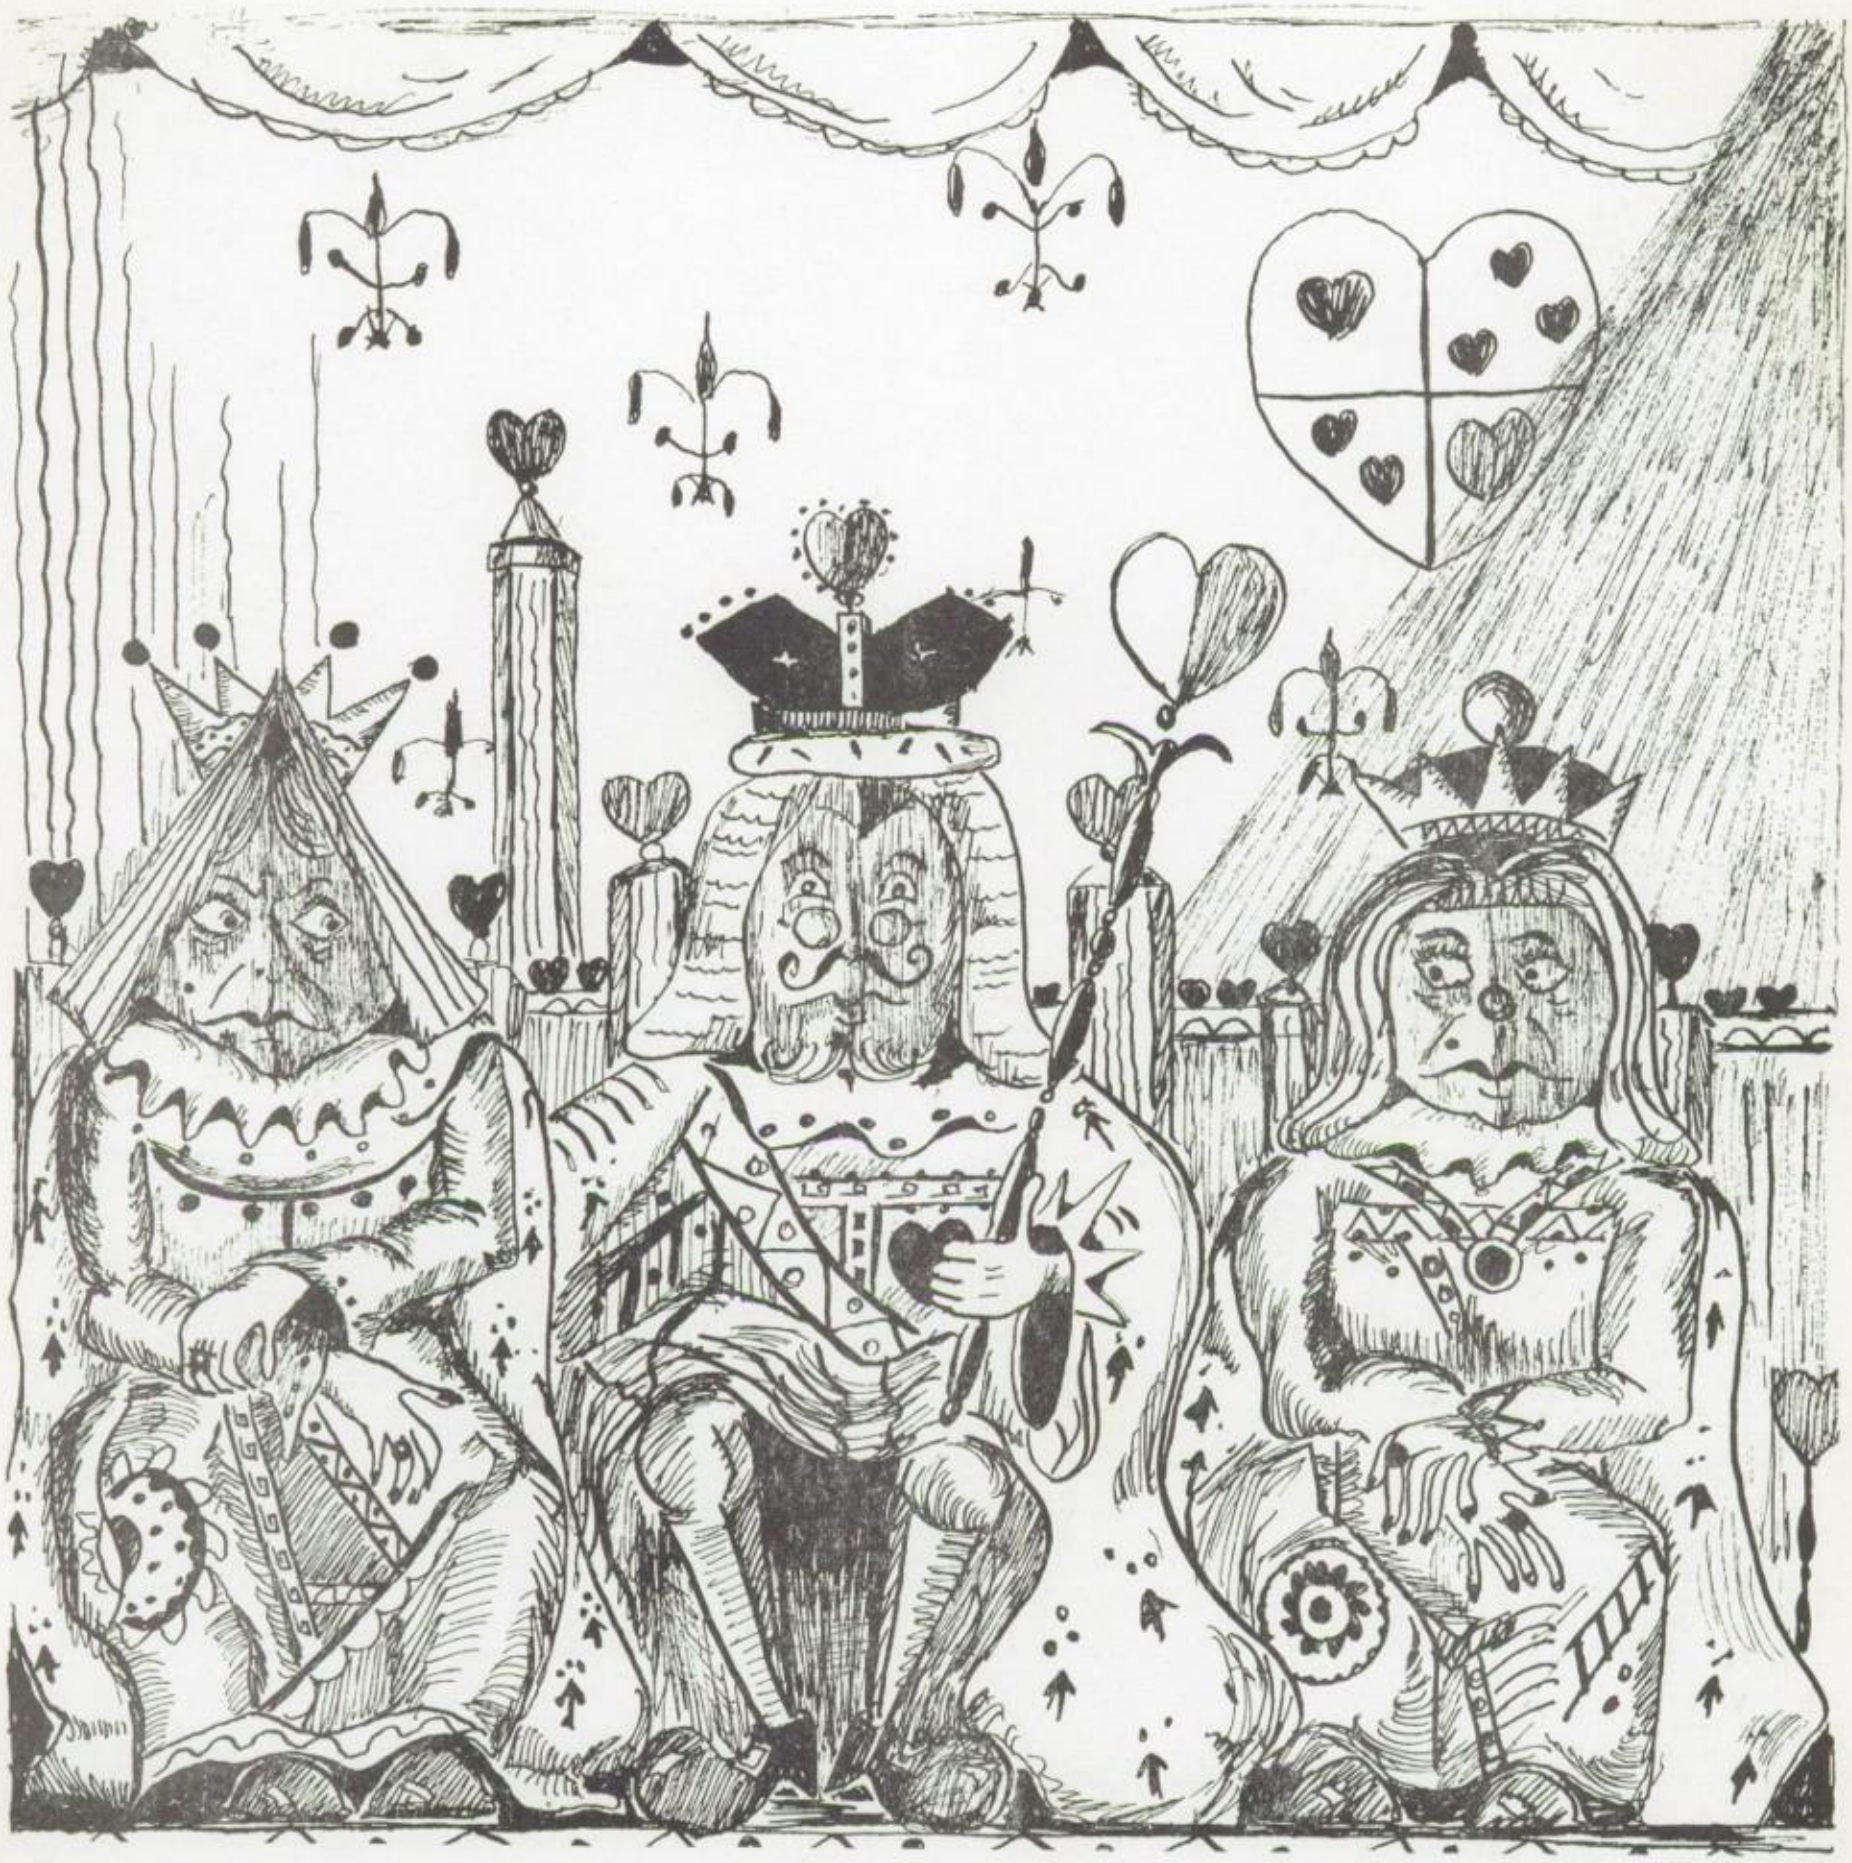
ALICE IN WONDERLAND

The story of Alice in Wonderland has forever captured the hearts of readers young and old. Our experiences in Nashua Senior High School, similar to Alice's in this beloved tale, have been a variety of successes, failures, joys, and sorrows. In our Wonderland at Nashua High, we were all like Alice, trying to discover the secrets of the many wonders within our grasp. Now the immovable curtain of time has dropped on our Wonderland. We must face the world of reality and maturely handle the obligations and responsibilities which will help us to make wonderlands of our own lives by living up to the standards, ideals, and lessons taught to us during our formative high-school years.



THE KING AND QUEENS

The King of Hearts, presiding over our court and the Red Queen and White Queen, helping in our everyday problems, will always be vivid in our thoughts of Wonderland.

RED QUEEN AND WHITE QUEEN

MISS HELEN HALLISEY

MISS MILDRED HALLISEY

To the Red Queen and the White Queen their country was a checkboard on which "a huge game of chess was being played all over the world." Just as the Red Queen grasped Alice's hand and together ran into the checkerboard kingdom of enchantment, so did Miss Helen Hallisey and Miss Mildred Hallisey hold firmly our hands as we ran headlong into the adventures of the magical world of English.

To Miss Helen Hallisey and Miss Mildred Hallisey, who stayed close by our sides, giving advice and making sure our lessons had meaning, as did the Red Queen and White Queen with Alice, we dedicate this yearbook as a token of gratitude for both the knowledge and fun they have shared with us during our memorable stay in Wonderland.

THE KING OF HEARTS

Upon entering our senior year in Wonderland, several changes in administration were effected. Among the more notable was the appearance of a new King of Hearts; however, he was new in title only, for we have known him from our first day in Wonderland. Mr. Morley has reigned for one year. During this past year life in Wonderland has proceeded smoothly and efficiently. We, his subjects, want to congratulate him on his very successful year and hope that his reign may be long and rewarding.

ARGOSY

A great clipper leaves the harbor of
childhood,
Sets forth innocently on the seas of maturity —
no burnt offerings to
Neptune, wielder of the horrible trident.

A ship of hope,
a captain of ignorance —
Launched with the confident cheers of well-wishers —
White sails filled with the warm wind of encouragement,
Rudder held in the youthful hands of innocence.

With lifted trident,
Vengeful Neptune hurls forth his wrath —
typhoon of hate,
the wind of skepticism,
the waves of discouragement,
shoals of revenge,
the rocks of immorality,
the ledges of sin,
shallows of deception,
the sandbars of complacency,
the oozing mud of over-confidence.

A great clipper leaves the harbor of
childhood,
Its course set for the channel of Success.
Sails of hope, rudder of determination —

Even experience could not reach port without sails and rudder.

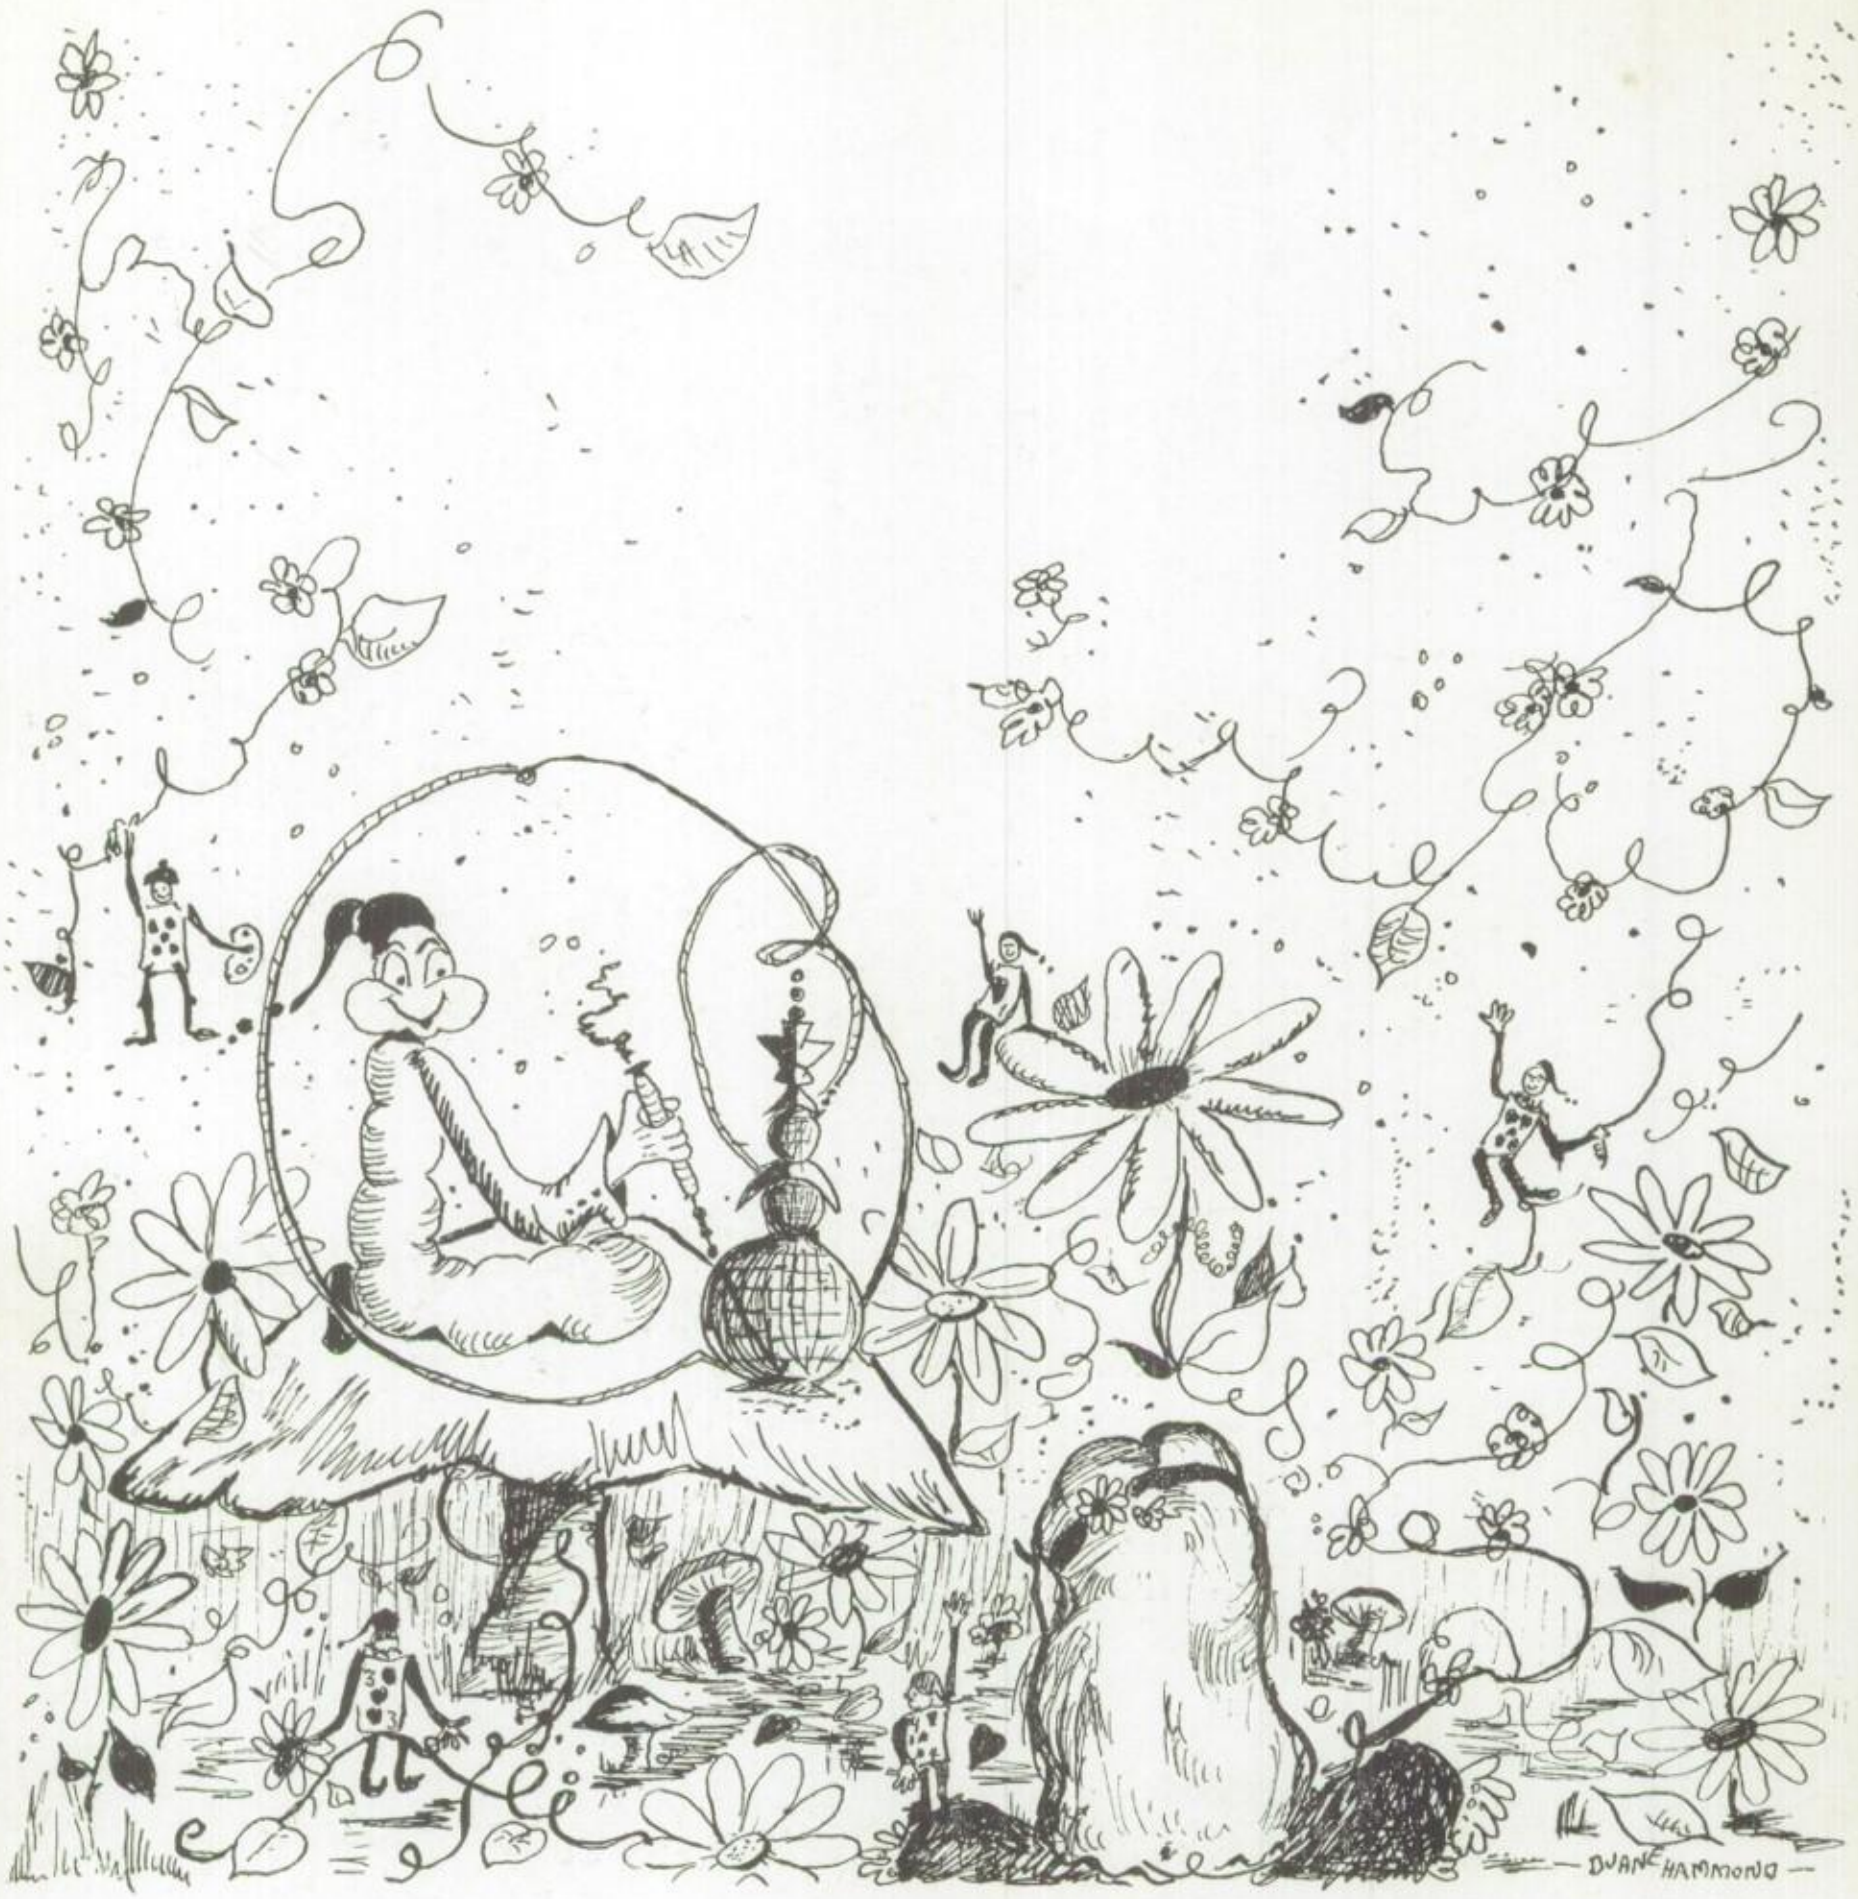
James Davis



THE BLUE CATERPILLAR

Much as the caterpillar of "Who-o-o are yo-oo-u?" fame listened to Alice's problems of size and told her about the mushroom to make her grow and the mushroom to make her shrink, so do our teachers analyze our difficulties and weak points and try to do what is best for us. They can only show us how to grow intellectually; we have to break off the pieces of mushroom and eat them ourselves.

RETIRING TEACHERS

MISS HELEN HALLISEY

Miss Helen Hallisey has taught a great many Nashua High School students their English grammar and literature over a number of years. Miss Hallisey, who received her Master's Degree in English from the University of New Hampshire, is an avid reader, particularly fond of poetry. Her patience and understanding have been an inspiration to all her students, while her gentle quiet sense of humor has been a delight to all who know her.

MR. C. WALLACE LAWRENCE

C. Wallace Lawrence, known to many as "Wally," came to Nashua High School early in his career, left after four years, and returned to us in 1943. Scientifically inclined, Mr. Lawrence has taught physics, chemistry, aeronautics, and science survey, taking time out from his busy teaching schedule to be faculty manager for our athletic department. Everyone who has studied under Mr. Lawrence will remember his delightful sense of humor and his enthusiastic interest in his alma mater, Colby College.

MR. RAYMOND PENDLETON

Raymond Pendleton's former students will remember the pleasant hours spent in his classroom — especially his practice tests — long after they have forgotten his theorems and formulas. Mr. Pendleton has taught geometry and algebra at Nashua High School for many years. In addition, he coached all four sports — basketball, baseball, football, and track — from 1923 to 1934. Each of his students will remember the wisdom and wit of this gentleman and will be grateful to have been taught by him.

ALICE

Our coming to high school was, in many ways, as exciting and full of surprises as Alice's fall down the miraculous rabbit-hole into Wonderland. Although the variety of things we have done were not so weird as chasing white rabbits and playing croquet with flamingos, and the people we have met were not so wild as the March Hare and the Mad Hatter, we have had many parallel eperiences that have taught us a lot of things, academic and otherwise, which will aid us in making more mature judgments when we become an active part of the adult world.

THE CROQUET GAME

After many puzzling and trying experiences on her journey through Wonderland, Alice found amusement and relaxation in the Croquet Game of the Queen of Hearts. In the same way, the students of Nashua High School have often turned to the variety of clubs offered for relaxation and recreation after a hard day's struggle with the books.

THE BAND

The Nashua High School Band, conducted by Mr. Stephen Norris, has been, for many years, the object of well-deserved school and civic pride. Carrying out the dual role of marching band and concert band, the group has been highly successful in its performances. We seniors may remember that in our sophomore year the Nashua High Band participated in its first exchange concert. This first exchange was made with Winslow, Maine, High School, an excellent musical group. Nashua's second exchange took place with an equally talented Maynard, Massachusetts, band. This year another trip, to Kennebunk, Maine, is in the offing.

We hope that this means of meeting with other musical organizations will be a continued practice in the successful Nashua High School musical program.

PRESS CLUB

This year, as in the past, the Press Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Anne McWeeney, kept local residents well-informed on the activities in Nashua High School. Each week a pair of reporters wrote up the school news for publication in the local newspaper. The Press Club writers this year were Debra Goodman, Karen Tabor, Georgia Sardonis, Jane Wrobleski, Katherine MacDonald, Suzanne Osgood, Holly Rathje, Beverly Place, Ronald Kizala, Janice Sturtevant, Joyce Farland, Roberta Beaupre, Carol Greenlaw, Carolyn Cook, Barbara Sanders, Bonnie MacKay, Alice Hurley, Claudette Neveu, Judy Dobens, Claire Bourdon, Joyce Jederian, Judy Jasalavich, Judy Grigas, Nancy Webster, Martha Gatcomb, Susan Huk, Sally Kudzma, Barbara Bluestein, Ilze Salgals, Brenda Truelove, Nancy Mahan, Helene Kazlauskas, Richard Harrington, Malcolm Beaverstock, Joan Ross, Jeanette Neves, Kevin Sullivan, Richard McCann, Joanne Markaverich, Pauline Denault, Jack Law, Harry Tong, Martha McNiff, Kathleen Cables, Lynn Caron, Betty Baybutt, and Ronald Hall. The typists were Joanne Markeverich, Jacqueline Sylvester, Carol Lockwood, Maureen Ivanow, Nancy Webster, Claire Bourdon, Patricia Belaik, Mary Axton, Pauline Denault, JoAnn Niquette, Carole Mansfield, Carol Greenlaw, Shirley Anctil, Mabel Pelletier, Elizabeth Darling, and Janice Sturtevant.

THE TATTLER

As seniors, we look back on three successful years of Tattler activity When we were sophomores and juniors, our participation was limited but this year our class was well represented on the Tattler staff.

Debra Goodman, editor-in-chief, was ably assisted by our associate editor, Bonnie MacKay. Senior literary editors were Karen Tabor and Kathleen Cables. The following department editors were seniors: Suzanne Osgood, Ronald Kizala, Malcolm Beaverstock, Holly Rathje, Martha McNiff, Elizabeth Baybutt, Carolyn Cook, Lynn Caron, Fred Klein, and Richard Harrington.

The talented art editors, whose work added so much to our magazine, were Brenda Truelove, Jacqueline Haynes, and Jeanette Neves assisted by Martha NcNiff. The hard work of the business staff contributed to the success of the Tattler. This Year the members of the business staff were Gerald Boggis, Beverly Place, Rose Paskaley, Claire Bourdon, Joanne Markaverich, and Janice Sturtevant.

We are grateful for the help of interested faculty members, and we appreciate the time and encouragement given by Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Crowley, Mrs. Peyton, Miss Shea, Mr. Smith, Miss Noyes, and Mr. Bernard.

The Tattler has won the recognition of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and we are all glad to have helped in the work of our school magazine. The experience we have gained as members of the Tattler staff will be useful throughout all the years to come.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club is a large club made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who take Latin. Miss Barnes and Miss Rideout sponsor the club, which generally meets four times a year. All new members are asked to learn to sing "Gaudeamus Igitur." Skits in Latin, colored slides of Italy, a trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and to the home of Mrs. Jack Gardner, and an annual picnic at Bear Brook are among the activities enjoyed by the members.

These are the officers of the club:

President - Georgia Sardonis
Vice- President - Jane Pawlukiewicz
Secretary - JoAnne Tally
Treasurer - Richard Swakla

All the members of the club are members of the Junior Classical League of America.

THE GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Stephen Norris, who became music director at high school the same year we became sophomores, works hard during the year preparing music for Veterans' Day, Christmas, and Memorial Day assemblies besides the annual Spring Concert and occasional programs outside of school.

With the help of an excellent accompanist, Bob Narkunas, the 62 members who meet twice a week enjoy the fellowship and the opportunity to express themselves through music.

This year's officers are president, Nicholas Katsikas; vice-president, Brenda Truelove; secretary, Jane Wrobleski; treasurer, Ronald Hall.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Nashua High is composed of four seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores. The officers elected for the school year 1958-1959 are president, Kevin Sullivan; vice-president, Martha McNiff; secretary, Barbara Sanders; treasurer, Edwin Davis.

The present seniors who were members of the Student Council as sophomores are Karen Tabor and Jack Law; as juniors, Jack Law, Kathleen Cables, and Debra Goodman; as seniors, Kevin Sullivan; Martha McNiff; Barbara Sanders, and Jack Law.

Throughout our three years in Nashua High School, the Student Council has put on many fund raising projects — selling refreshments at basketball games and pep rallies, holding pep rallies, holding dances, holding food sales, and selling book covers — to provide two one-hundred-dollar scholarships for two seniors.

The Student Council is directed by Miss Mabel Noyes and has been active in scheduling social events for the school.

SOCIETE HONORAIRE DE FRANCAIS

"To be eligible for membership, candidates must have maintained an average of 90 per cent in French, with the exception that one semester grade may have been 85 to 89 per cent, provided that this lower grade was received no later than one year prior to election. Candidates must also have maintained an average of 80 per cent in other subjects, with no subject lower than 75 per cent, and not more than one subject below 80 per cent at the end of any semester."

The club was started four years ago by Miss Cote and Miss Milan. Its purpose is "to stimulate interest in the study of French, to promote higher standards of scholarship, to reward high scholastic attainments, to create enthusiasm for an understanding of French culture and civilization, to promote and perpetuate Franco-American friendship and to reward efforts toward furthering Franco-American solidarity."

Officers this year are president, Jane Wrobleski; vice-president, Beth Hendrickson; secretary-treasurer, Joyce Farland.

LIBRARY AIDES

The library aides are a group of students who have volunteered to assist Miss Stevens, our librarian. During the week each student gives up one or two study periods to do odd jobs such as stamping in-coming and out-going books, carding, and mending bindings.

The library aides may order a gold library pin, shaped like an open book, with a lamp symbolizing knowledge imposed upon its pages. The word "Library" is written on a background of purple below the open book. A chain connects the pin to a guard on which are written the student's class numerals.

Senior library aides this year are Louise Flanders, David Gidge, and Vernon Macomber.

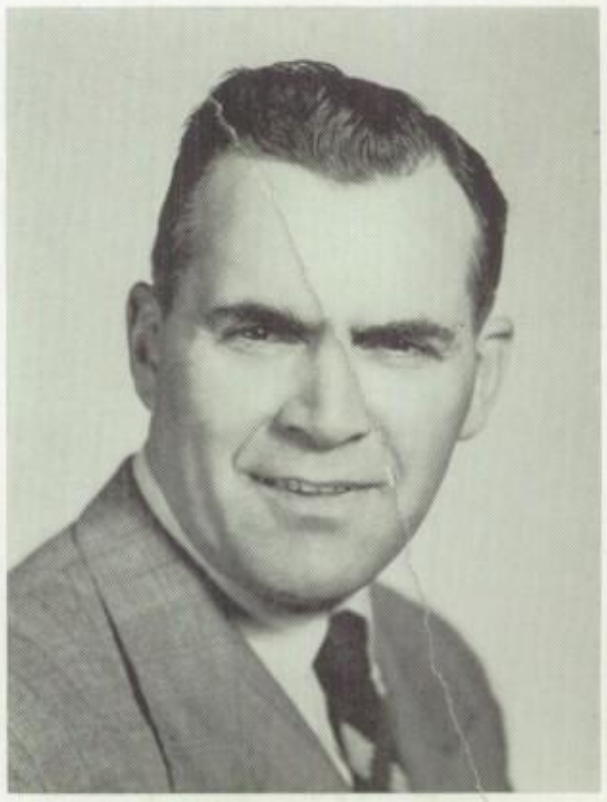
THE CAUCUS RACE

The great sports event in Alice in Wonderland was the Caucus Race. During our stay in high school, we have been fortunate enough to watch or participate in the many sporting events that Nashua High School has to offer. There were no losers in the Caucus Race; all who participated were winners. Although in real life everyone can't win, the spirit in which the game is played, not the winner, is the important thing, as Alice learned in Wonderland.

"ALL-AMERICAN AL"

AL BRIGGS

There is only one word that comes close to describing Al Briggs, and that is "great". Our memories of high school sports — football, basketball, baseball and track — will always recall the picture of Al Briggs, relaxed and perfectly co-ordinated, excelling in all sports. He is a natural athlete! His election to the "All-American Football Eleven" was an honor never before bestowed upon a Nashua High player, or any other football player in the state. He is always modest and friendly in spite of fame and acclaim. Because to know Al is to like him, he is without a doubt one of the most popular boys in Nashua High. There can be no better title for Al Briggs than "All-American Al."



BUZZ HARVEY

For the Class of '59 there has never been any football coach to rival Buzz Harvey. To us "Buzz" is more than just a coach; he symbolizes the whole field of athletics at Nashua High. To the fans in the stands Buzz may look like any other football coach doing his job, but his players all know that with him it is more than just a job. He earns their respect and loyalty by the tireless, unselfish effort he puts into the task of helping every individual player. A "Harvey" man graduates from the finest possible school of athletics.

TONY MARANDOS

Many of us seldom get to see Tony Marandos during the football season. Yet he is there, quietly working with that all-important part of the team — the line. During the basketball season, however, Tony really comes into his own; he always manages to put together a great basketball team. This year Tony, with a team that he has been developing for two years, brought home to Nashua High her fifth state championship. Tony puts many hours and a great deal of effort into his basketball coaching and has maintained a high reputation for the Nashua High basketball teams.

THE TEA PARTY

Unforgettable in Alice's recollections of Wonderland's society was the Mad Tea Party, attended by the Mad Hatter, the March Hare, and the Dormouse. As the Mad Hatter hurried for fear there would be no room at the Tea Party, so did we hurry to our exciting, crowded prom and our successful play. Unforgettable in our memories of Nashua High's Wonderland are two social highlights - the junior prom, "Apple Blossom Time," and the senior play, "Sabrina Fair."

FROM FANTASY TO REALITY

At the close of her unique adventures, Alice slowly began to grow, when suddenly, she awoke from fantasy to reality. Unlike Alice, however, we have grown continually in wisdom and understanding during our high school years. With our graduation, we must put away our childish dreams and awaken to the opportunities awaiting us.

GREATNESS IN SIMPLICITY

We graduates of 1959 may sometime soon achieve greatness in our lives; we may more likely, however, be confronted with judging what in this world is great and with evaluating what qualities comprise greatness. True greatness is achievement — using one's talents and spirit to make a great work or a great life, while keeping one's values and integrity. True greatness in life is often found in simplicity. The touch of a genius is greatest when the simplicity of his message renders it universally understandable.

As we consider greatness, perhaps one of our first thoughts is of the master touch in the wonders of Nature. The majesty of an evening sunset, the soft hues of the rainbow after a storm, the first blushing rosebud in the garden fill us with awe. These very wonders are often complexities in themselves, yet viewed in the simplicity of their design, they are still great. So, too, does the simplicity of our best known trio of monosyllables hide their comprehensiveness. The simple words faith, hope and love stand for the greatest ideas of all time. The supreme example of greatness in simplicity is the Holy Bible which gives us vivid, moving literature with an inspirational, far-reaching message, comprehensible to both peasant and scholar.

Of course, greatness must be relative. When we measure the world on a vast yardstick, our private corner must become no more than a quarter inch. Yet we can achieve greatness in our small environment by keeping ourselves above the selfish egoism that so often obstructs our view.

We graduates of 1959, having the potentiality to accomplish a great work or to live a great life, must realize that in the recipe for greatness, one of the chief ingredients is simplicity.

Karen Tabor

"SPES UNA HOMINEM NEC MORTE RELINQUIT"

In times of stress never lose your courage. Hold on to hope — for "hope leaves man only with his breath." Dionysus Cato attempted with these words to pinpoint a force that is as common as dirt but as elusive and ethereal as the morning mist. The hope which he believes is so essential cannot be captured in a painting, a carving, or a verse. Rather, it makes itself known in the sweat, blood, and tears of man as he struggles with great problems, trying to make the world a better place in which to live.

The Communism of today, the Naziism of a decade ago, the imperialism of a hundred years ago, the barbarism of a thousand years ago are but different aspects of the same problem made more horrible by the improvement of weapons. The hunger, the poverty, the disease, and the ignorance are ever the same. Yet, hope has driven man on to struggle against them, to suppress them, and to improve himself in spite of them. No, hope is not a noble, pious, pink-and-white emotion; it is an energy, potential and kinetic, that goes unrecognized even as it works the hardest.

Hope also achieves great things in another world — the world of the individual. It would be foolish to say that hope, by itself alone, makes the individual better than he is — cures the sick, fills the hungry, enriches the poor, or educates the ignorant. Yet, without this hope a man can profit nothing by his knowledge and skill, or, actually, never attain knowledge or skill. With it, the individual continues to live, regardless of his station in life — "for hope leaves man only with his breath."

WANDERINGS THROUGH WONDERLAND

CLASS HISTORY

Sophomore Year

September 1956 — ". . . I know who I was when I got up this morning, but I think I must have changed several times since then."

A special series of tests and interviews with the counselors helped us, as incoming sophomores, to become acquainted with our school.

Physical examinations during Health Week pronounced us all fit to begin our studies at Nashua High.

The first pep rally marked the beginning of the football season.

October 1956

A color guard was chosen for the band.
In connection with Hi-U day, we sophomores went to visit the U. N. H.

The appearance of our school was greatly improved by the addition of new venetian blinds in all the rooms.

November 1956

There was a Parent's Night during Education Week to help the parents know more about their children's progress.

A Thanksgiving Hop was held for the students.

December 1956

There was a semi-formal Christmas Hop in accordance with the Christmas Season.

March 1957

Edward Orleans was awarded first prize at the Science Fair.

The band and glee club presented a spring concert.

There was a riotous basketball game between the boys and the girls.

A French Honor Society, the first of its kind in our school, was organized.

April 1957

We had a Spring Hop in the gym.

On Career Day, we heard talks on our chosen professions.

May 1957

The band had an exchange concert with Winslow, Maine.

Junior Year

September 1957 — ". . . the gloss was beginning to melt away, just like a silvery mist."

Our school had a record enrollment at the beginning of this year.

Mr. Keefe addressed the incoming sophomores at the first assembly.

We had our first football game of the season.

October 1957

Under pretense of a fire drill, all students were herded out of the school because of an anonymous phone call saying that there was a bomb in the school.

Both our yearbook and our school magazine were awarded first prize in competition.

The school held a Voice of Democracy contest.

December 1957

The Nashua High Band was chosen to be in a national book, The First Chair of America.
The glee club presented a Christmas Assembly.

Our football team won the state championship.

February 1958

We chose the class rings that we would wear as seniors.

March 1958

Michael Morley won first prize in physics at the Science Fair.

Nick Mandravelis was chosen captain of the basketball team.

The band had an exchange concert with Maynard, Massachusetts.

The whole school was saddened by Miss Cornell's death.

May 1958

The results of the class election were announced.

June 1958

Malcolm Beaverstock won the Harvard Prize.

Senior Year

September 1958 — ". . . she sat on, with closed eyes, and half believed herself in Wonderland, though she knew she had but to open them again, and all would change to . . . reality."

Mr. Patrick Morley was named our new principal after Mr. Keefe was named Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Curran took Mr. Morley's place as vice-principal.

There was a great controversy over night football games in Nashua.

October 1958

The Pep Club had its first meeting.

November 1958

The staff was chosen for the Tusitala.

December 1959

"Sabrina Fair" was chosen to be our senior play.

January 1959

Al Briggs was chosen to be on the first string of the All-American Team.

Kevin Sullivan and Carl Ricard received congressional nomination to Annapolis

The cheerleaders sponsored a regional cheerleading tournament.

Shirley Anctil received the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award.

February 1959

All committees were chosen for the senior play.

The friends and teammates of Al Briggs gave him a testimonial dinner.

Debra Goodman received the National Council of Teachers award in English.

March 1959

Nashua High Basketball Team won the N. H. State Championship.

Nick Mandravelis was chosen for the High School All-New England Basketball Team.

June 1959

To my Son Curtis. who has worked hard against many odds and hard trials. You deserve many credits and I am very proud of
you. Love

"Thus grew the tale of Wonderland;
Thus slowly one by one,
Its quaint events were hammered out —
And now the tale is done,
And home we steer, a merry crew,
Beneath the setting sun."
